Your Auric Fields

An Aura is a number of energy fields surrounding a body. There are 7 main auric fields plus a number of healing fields which are available to aid the healing of the main 7.

What are the main Auric levels surrounding the physical body?

The 7 main layers of the Auric fields are:

1. Layer 1 is the lower Etheric aspect and is closest to the body. This is the layer that some can visualise. Often you can see colours or sense the aura's energy. It is the layer that keeps you most grounded or not as the case may be. It is the final layer of defence for your physical body, so if you get sick, it's gone through all other layers before penetrating this one too and into the body. Layer 1 is linked with your root chakra.

2. Layer 2 is the Emotional body layer and holds the majority of your emotional self. Layer 2 is linked to your sacral chakra.

3. Layer 3 is the Mental body layer and is responsible for your state of mind and thought process. Layer 3 is connected to your solar plexus.

4 Layer 4 is the Aural Astral body layer and connects directly into your heart. This influences how you love and are loved. Layer 4 is connected to your heart chakra.

5 Layer 5 is the Etheric body layer and is the physical layer and defines who you are. Layer 5 is connected to your throat chakra.

6 Layer 6 is the Celestial layer creates the connection with the angels, spirit guides and your Light team.Layer 6 is connected to your third eye chakra.

7 Layer 7 is the Ketheric layer. This is the layer responsible for connection with the Spiritual plane or Source. Finally, Layer 7 is connected to your Crown chakra.

Is your Auric field connected to the Chakra system?

Yes, they are indirectly connected and can link up with the Chakra system.

How do I know if one of my Auric fields needs healing?

Unless you feel 10 foot tall and 10 foot wide (and no I'm not talking about being overweight), then there is typically something that needs healing.

As a conscious being in this life-time you are being asked to clear and cleanse what has happened not just in this lifetime but previous ones as well.

For more information on this topic, why not sign up to my "Connecting with your Aura" group course, when you can experience and learn more.

And the question most people want to know.....
"When I die what happens to my Auric fields?"

When a person dies, the auric fields departs the body that it was associated with, and joins the Soul on its journey. Remember, the Aura is connected to a Soul and not a body.

My name is Jo Wesch and I am an Aura Healer.

I help people connect into their Aura and help them heal from within and release what no longer is serving them.

If you are just currently curious, why not connect with me on Facebook, Jo Wesch, the Aura Healer? Where I will be doing some inspiration quotes, weekly lives, and pick a card from my own healing deck.

If you want to go further and explore deeper, I have a number of group or 1:1 programmes which may be of interest. I would love to chat to know what and how I can help you.

Why not book a 15 minute non-obligation chat on the link?
